<sup>6</sup> The term “Current Client” refers to an entity listed as a client in Covington & Burling’s Client Database for which Covington & Burling has at least one open matter. The term “Former Client” refers to an entity listed as a client in Covington & Burling’s Client Database for which time has been recorded in the past two years, but all matters for such client have since been closed. Covington & Burling does not disclose connections if time was recorded more than two years before January 1, 2020.

<sup>7</sup> In certain categories, e.g., Landlords & Parties to Leases, and Retiree Claimants, common individual names were excluded as being too vague to ascertain whether Covington & Burling represents the same individuals; however, as far as we are aware, Covington & Burling does not represent these individuals.
